

John McNulty
Programme director, HS2 Growth Partnership

The HS2 Growth Partnership brings together the station-led regeneration expertise of LCR and the station delivery function of HS2 Ltd to help HS2 Places realise greatest regeneration benefits from HS2 connectivity.

John, a chartered civil engineer and programme management practitioner, brings his experience in integrated transport and land-use development, working in partnership with the local authorities in their production of strategic regeneration frameworks, integrated station masterplans, infrastructure funding and financing models, land strategies and delivery vehicles.

Before joining LCR in 2012, John was head of TfL Interchange, accountable for strategic transport hub developments, unlocking regeneration schemes across London.

Prior to that, John worked on major rail projects including Crossrail, Thameslink, Jubilee Line Extension, Heathrow T5 Rail Access and WCML Upgrade. Before that, he managed the capital works and structures maintenance programme for a London Borough.
